

The Maryland Chapter of the Federal Bar Association is pleased to announce a half-day seminar on

Women in the Law: Strategies for Success

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 2012

Featuring a stellar panel of nationally-renowned speakers:

Phoebe Haddon

Dean of the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law

Sara Laschever

Co-author of N.Y. Times acclaimed, Women Don't Ask: The High Cost of Avoiding Negotiation—and Positive Strategies For Change

Lorelie S. Masters

ABA Commission on Women

Linda Singer

JAMS Mediator

Our panelists will address the Status of Women and the Law; Career Options for Women Lawyers; Women and Persuasion Skills; Negotiation and Mediation; and include a question and answer session.

Members of the local judiciary and attorneys will also provide their unique insights and commentary.

1:00 pm to 5:00 pm

University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law

A reception with light fare and wine will immediately follow the seminar.

Tickets: $50.00/R.S.V.P. by October 29

A limited number of tickets will be provided free of charge to current law school students.

For information contact Caitlin Nesseler, Esq., cvnesseler@ober.com 410.347.7324.

To reserve a spot, send a check made payable to the Maryland Chapter of the Federal Bar Association to:
Caitlin Nesseler, Ober|Kaler, 100 Light Street, Baltimore, MD 21202