I had a couple people tell me to write a boss letter. You love your house in Kissimmee have spent over 40 days there since purchasing it, got your kids Disney passes blah blah. , your sister bought a beach house that you absolutely adore and now another one just popped on the market and you want to buy it. Its across the street from thr Beach and literally next door to your sister who you're super close to and your favorite all time mortgage lender.

They'll put it in front of underwriting manager on Monday morning
